The General Won't Wait
By Caroline Swan

Wife of Joseph H. Swain, '11
The General has arrived!
A lieutenant learns that while he may lead at work, the baby gives the orders at home. This "children's book" is for adults to laugh (or commiserate) about the foibles of new parenthood.
During the author's pregnancy, someone laughed and said, "This baby will call the shots. He'll be the General in charge." It came to pass.
