Financial Readiness Program (FRP) and Army Emergency Relief (AER)

(845) 938-5839

The FRP offers prevention education in personal financial management readiness and consumer affairs to Soldiers and Family members. Services include: Mandatory First-Term Soldier Financial Training, budgeting counseling, retirement and financial planning, debt and credit management and insurance and investment planning.

AER provides loans and grants to eligible Active Duty and Retired Service Members and their Families to assist with emergency financial needs. AER does provide services to West Point Cadets as an exception to policy when there is emergency need for travel assistance.

Relocation Readiness Program (RRP)

(845) 938-3487

The RRP assists Soldiers and Families as they relocate to and from West Point. RRP also provides resources and services to ensure a smooth settling in process.

Information, Referral & Follow Up Program (I&R)

(845) 938-2519

The I&R program is the main source for integrated info on West Point and the surrounding communities. I&R assesses each individual's situation and makes a referral to the appropriate military or civilian agency.

Survivor Outreach Services (SOS)

(845) 938-5654

The mission of SOS is to provide emotional support, education on benefits and advocacy on issues facing surviving Families.

Family Advocacy Program (FAP)

(845) 938-0633

FAP is dedicated to the prevention, education, prompt reporting and intervention of domestic violence and child abuse. FAP provides a variety of community-based educational opportunities for Soldiers and Families on parenting, anger/stress management and communication skills. Command and troop briefings are offered on the prevention of domestic violence/child abuse. Crisis intervention is available with referral to appropriate agencies. FAP provides victim advocacy services for domestic violence.

Exceptional Family Member Program (EFMP)

(845) 938-5655

EFMP is a mandatory enrollment program that works with other military and civilian agencies to provide comprehensive and coordinated educational, housing, medical, community support and advocacy services to Families with special needs.
