Snowblowing Update (as of 1/4/2021)

Hello Skiers and Riders,

Snow may cover most of the ski hill but it is still not deep enough to mark safe for riding. We are now forecasting an opening day of somewhere in mid-January. The uncertainty is based on a forecast that sadly keeps changing, however our snowmakers are ready when optimal temperatures permit us resuming snowmaking.

All of our lessons for session one are sold out.

As always think Cold, think Snow.
